Hand Turned by Jane Uhl

The next time you find a "hand turned" piece of Uhl Pottery think about the efforts of Jane Uhl to design such an object.

Jane and her assistant Robert Jefferies made these hand turned pieces.

Jane Uhl was the daughter of Charles Uhl. She had a brother Louis and a sister Helen.

When the pottery moved to Huntingburg, IN, in 1910, Jane's brother Louis was in charge of the new plant.

After studying art in Chicago, Jane Uhl returned to Huntingburg, IN, during 1925. She became a member of the board of directors in charge of the new art department.

Robert Jefferies was chose by Jane to become her personal assistant, hand turning several of the new designs produced by her. It was said that Jefferies answered to Jane Uhl only.

His goal was to get the pottery in the hands of collectors who would enjoy it.

The Blackstone Hotel in Chicago was one of the early private exhibition locations Jane chose to promote her designs.

In 1927 Jane Uhl exhibited at the John Herron Art Institute and Art Association of Indianapolis, IN. A $30 first place prize was awarded to her for showing 14 hand turned pieces such as tankard sets, wine sets, bean pot, cookie jars, mugs, jugs, pitchers, bottles and a cup with saucer. Most of these items sold for $1 to $3 each.

During 1929 Jane was elected to the "Jury of Selection" by ballot of the exhibitors at the Indianapolis Art Institute show.

The Indiana Industrial Exposition at the Indianapolis State Fair Grounds was utilized to display her hand turned pieces in 1930.

Some Uhl Society members might remember the 1988 convention when a Birmingham, Alabama antique dealer named Ed Richman sold over 200 pieces of Jane Uhl special designed pottery.

Though information is limited, it is thought that Jane Uhl was commissioned to produce wares for a wealthy Birmingham family with the last name of Swan.

This occurred during the 1920's and Jane traveled to England to visit some castles to see examples of their pottery.

It is thought that the pottery was actually made in 1928.

Ed Richman sold the items he brought to the convention so fast that the buyers were unpacking the boxes for him. His goal was to get the pottery in the hands of collectors who would enjoy it and his prices reflected his wishes!

After getting married Jane Uhl left the pottery in 1931 and moved to Chicago. Later she retired to California where she died in 1965.

Her designs were ahead of their time and are a welcome addition to any Uhl Pottery Collector.

Letter from the President

Greetings Fellow Uhlers:

On behalf of the board, our wishes are that the holidays for you and your families will be the very best.

Your new board has met on two occasions since the '96 convention, and will be meeting again in January, 1997. I personally want to thank the board members, as we close out the old year, for all their voluntary time and efforts in maintaining this club a top-notch organization.

At our October meeting we selected the 1997 commemorative. A great piece to add to our collections. The efforts of board member JoAnn Smith are greatly appreciated.

Please return your membership dues, convention reservations, etc., as early as possible after the first of the year. I would remind you to make your room reservations as soon as possible also. Today is not too early. The convention dates again are June 20 and 21, 1997. If you will be staying at the Jasper Holiday Inn, the pool-side rooms will be available for those members who plan to set-up and sell Uhl pieces from your rooms. Please help us by not requesting the pool-side rooms when making your reservations, unless you will be selling Uhl.

You may also be Interested in inquiring about accommodations at the Dutchman Inn at Huntingburg, a very nice and quiet place for your week-end stay, and also just five minutes from the convention site in Jasper.

May I again wish each of you a great 1997.

Don Schwartz - President

Board Meeting

The Board of the Uhl Collectors Society met at the Jasper Holiday Inn on October 26, 1996.

Bonding was first addressed by the members and a decision was made to bond Beverly Leslie and Don Schwartz in the amount of $25,000 each at the cost of $250.00 total.

A discussion was held concerning the possibility of having educational sessions at the next convention.

Commemoratives for the next convention was discussed with the cost for the new commemorative to be $32.50 and shipping will be $7.50.

An audit report by Don Feldmeyer was read and made part of the minutes for file purposes.

Also the topic of commemorative molds being destroyed was discussed.

The next meeting will be held January 11, 1997, at the Dutchman Inn located in Huntingburg, Indiana, at Noon.

Audit

UHL COLLECTORS SOCIETY

August 28, 1996

First, I would wish to comment that all records were kept in a very professional, neat and orderly manner and excellent documentation was established and available for examination.

My audit was performed to obtain reasonable assurance that the income and disbursements are free of material misstatement. I found no material misrepresentations. All income that supports bank deposits was examined and check disbursements were reviewed and compared to the bank statements. The bank statements accurately present the financial condition of the Uhl Collectors Society. It is my opinion that as of August 1, 1996, the checking account balance of $11,026.94 is not misstated and can be considered correct.

From us to U Collectors

Welcome to the holiday season and the chaos which can come along with it.

During the last board meeting there was discussion about conducting an informational program at the convention.

Our organization continues to grow and as time passes the opportunity to share "hands on" information from those who worked at the pottery diminishes.

Since much of the Uhl products are unmarked a good set of identification guidelines would help members make good collecting judgments.

With the help of Uhl Pottery employees and society members common ground on many aspects of the pottery lines for identification purposes could be established.

What is your opinion or idea? Drop us a line and let us know.

Happy Collecting!
